Hibernians and Ladies of the Auxiliary Held State Convention.

George J. Butler Re-elected as Head of Order in This State.

Ladies Chose New Officers to Guide Their Ship of State.

RESOLUTIONS WERE IMPORTANT

The Hibernians and the Ladies' Auxiliary to the A. O. H. of Kentucky held their respective state conventions in Louisville last Monday and GEORGE J. BUTLER, State President Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Tuesday, and the gatherings of sons and daughters of Erin were successful socially and from a business point of view. The new state officers for the Hibernians are:

Chaplain—Right Rev. C. P. Maes, of Covington, re-elected.
President—George J. Butler, Louisville, re-elected.
Vice President—James B. Dempsey, Paris, re-elected.
Secretary—William J. Connelly, Louisville.

Treasurer—Thomas B. Howard, Ashland.

All the business sessions of both bodies were held at the Galt House, and the ladies assembled with the gentlemen in a spacious parlor when State President George J. Butler called the convention to order at 9 o'clock. The Rev. Father C. F. Christmas, O. P., opened the meeting with prayer.

County President John A. Murphy delivered the address of welcome. It was brief and to the point. He said: "Brother and sister Hibernians and visiting delegates, it affords me great pleasure at this time on behalf of the officers and members of the order in Jefferson county to wish you a most hearty welcome to our city. Our hearts are down and our gates opened to you, and we, the members of this county, feel that nothing is too good for you. With loving hearts and cheerful hands we extend a most hearty welcome. It is our earnest desire that all of you enjoy a most pleasant time while in our city."

The convention hall had been tastefully festooned with the flag of Erin and the Stars and Stripes of America. State President Butler named the Recording Secretaries of the various divisions as members of the Credentials Committee. A brief recess was taken to allow the committee to make its report. State President Butler read his report showing the standing of the organization in Kentucky and reviewing the work of the past two years. He also made several suggestions for the future, advocated the study of Irish history in the schools and the continuance of literary exercises. President Butler said that by persistent effort on the part of the Hibernians and the Ladies' Auxiliary the question of having Irish history taught could be made as effective here as in the State of Massachusetts. He also advocated the formation of oadet companies to further an interest in Irish affairs among the boys, and urged the members to attend every meeting of their divisions, and asked that each one make an effort to bring in at least one new member each year. The State President also had kind words for the Ladies' Auxiliary and urged Hibernians to give that body their hearty support. At this point the ladies retired to a separate hall to begin their deliberations alone.

State President Butler announced the following committees:

Rules—Con J. Ford, Phillips-Donnelly, Michael Partell, A. J. Patterson and P. J. Kane.

Resolutions—John A. Murphy, George Doyle, Thomas Howard, John Barton and John H. Collins.

Grievances—John M. Mulloy, Joseph Broderick, John Callery, P. H. Howard, Jr., and Joseph Higgins.

Finances—William J. Connelly, L. C. Murphy, John Seery, David Hickey and Thomas Roach.

Press—John J. Barry, John Tierney, E. J. Cavanaugh, James Walsh and James Tierney.

By-Laws—Lawrence J. Mackey, J. P. Howard, Thomas Hester, Thomas Roach and M. J. Shepherd.

State President Butler called upon the various County Presidents, each of whom responded with brief but encouraging words. Judge M. T. Shine, of Covington, congratulated Louisville Hibernians on the welcome given the visitors. He regretted, he said, that the order had not made greater progress in Kentucky, but attributed this to the present stringent times. He urged the members to cultivate a spirit of friendship and to be true to each other. He touched upon the alliance between the Germans and Irish, and urged the incoming officers to give effect to the action of the national officers in bringing about a more perfect accord between the two races. Judge Shine also said that there must be hearty accord and reciprocal relations between the Ladies' Auxiliary and the Hibernians. God is with us, he said, when the daughters of Erin are with us. He pleaded with the delegates for time for the proper transaction of all business that concerns the order in this State.

All of the County Presidents spoke much along the same lines. Thomas Howard, of Ashland, was present with four members of his family as delegates. He said he was proud of his membership in the order and had a record of thirty-five years. He said the Irish people were ever ready to lay down their lives for the clergy, for whose protection the Ancient Order was founded.

County President J. A. Barton said he was glad the friendships formed at Paris two years ago were being continued. County President George P. Doyle, of Paris, made a brief speech along similar lines, after which the delegates adjourned for their noon luncheon.

The convention assembled for its afternoon session with all the delegates present. The Committee on Rules, through Chairman Con J. Ford, recommended that the rules of the last State convention be adopted. The recommendation was concurred in. L. C. Murphy, of Kenton county, was appointed assistant secretary of the convention.

County President John A. Murphy, of Louisville, reported for the Committee on Resolutions. The committee recommended the absolute necessity of the order in this State.

GRAND REUNION

When St. Michael's Church Celebrates Approaching Anniversary.

The pastor and clergy of St. Michael's church, Brook street, will celebrate the forty-second anniversary of that church on Sunday, September 27. On that day the services will be of the highest order and in keeping with the past traditions of the church. The first mass will be at 7:30 o'clock. The late mass will be a high one, and the sermon will be preached by a well known priest of the diocese.

Preparatory to the late mass there will be a solemn procession of the children of the parochial school and of the societies of the church. A new feature will be added to the solemnity of the occasion by the assistance of the Concordia Singing Society. Father Martin O'Connor, of the beloved pastor, is urging his people to make it a great family reunion, and to call together former parishioners from all parts of the city. On Monday, September 28, the church will have a high requiem at 8 o'clock for the repose of the souls of deceased members of the congregation.

During the past thirty months Father O'Connor, aided by the generosity of his people, has reduced the debt of the church by $3,965.00. This credit the pastor has placed in the church and pastoral residence speaks well for St. Michael's congregation. The Sunday anniversary celebration will close with vespers and benediction at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

OUR MARY

Asked and Received a Blessing From Cardinal Gibbons.

Madame Mary Anderson Navarro was received and given a special blessing last Friday at Norfolk House, near London, England. After the great mass meeting at Albert Hall, London, on Thursday night, a strange lady pressed her way through the throng and asked Cardinal Gibbons for his blessing. He asked her who she was. To his delight she answered: "I am Mary Anderson, Madame Navarro." Cardinal Gibbons invited her to visit him at Norfolk House the next day. She accepted the invitation, received his blessing and was commended for her blameless life.

Mary Anderson, "Our Mary," as we call her in Louisville, is a graduate of Presentation Academy, and has been a devout Catholic. During her long career on the stage she attended mass every morning. All of this Cardinal Gibbons knew, and he knew likewise that she was a Southern girl and a Kentuckian.

ROUTINE AT MACKIN.

Mackin Council held a strictly routine meeting Tuesday night with President Robert T. Burke presiding. One application was received and six new members were elected. It was decided to postpone the big initiation until October 7. D. J. Hume was reported improving and John Schaefer well. Owing to the Supreme Council convention the next meeting will be held Monday instead of Tuesday night.

SCANDALS

At the City Hall Tread Upon Each Others Heels These Days.

Chambers Gets a Good Berth Without Attaining the Honor.

Wooden Shoes the Only Thing Necessary to Equip Police.

NO ABATEMENT OF BURGLARIES

Mayor Grinstead's reform administration continues to have troubles. They crop up over night like mushrooms, but they are as poisonous as landstools to Republican security and success this fall and next. Criticism over the proposed raise of the Mayor's secret service fund from $1,000 to $2,500 developed that the General Council had failed to provide revenue for the public schools. Next day came the announcement that W. R. Harris, who had passed an examination of 94.15 out of a possible 100 in the race for City Engineer, was to be sidetracked for John R. Chambers, the present Building Inspector, whose average was 90.8 per cent.

The walls that are going up are fearful. "What becomes of the secret service fund?" the people are saying. "Does not the Mayor have absolute control of it? Does he have to make any accounting for it? Why has it become necessary to increase it from $1,000 to $2,500 per annum? What about our schools? Will they have to suspend? The appropriation of thirty-three cents on the $100 valuation of taxable property to support the schools was overlooked." "Who was responsible and why?" "Why does Mayor Grinstead take one of his pets, for the high school, and another man beat him to a standstill?" All these are questions that the people want answered, and if the answer is not eminently satisfactory the result in November will not be in doubt.

By the way, it is rumored that the city officials and employees are being assessed to help the Taft campaign fund. That is nice for a reform government. Last Monday a big negro street cleaner at Fifth and Market streets wore a $5 bill pinned to the breast of his tan jacket. To people asked why he did it he replied: "That is my Taft badge." Now the public wonders whether he meant that it was given him to keep him in line for Taft, or whether it was his contribution to the fund for Taft that is being raised by city officials and employees.

What will the reform ministers of Louisville think when they learn that J. M. Butler, in requesting a license to operate a saloon at 636 West Green street, presented a letter of recommendation from Richard W. Knott, editor of the Louisville Evening Post. The letter was a most notorious one, in the Red Light district. Aided by the editor of the Post, Mr. Butler got his license. Did you see the police parade Monday? Did you notice the grotesque caps and dress coats? All that is necessary to equip Col. Hauger's force is wooden shoes, and after that they can shout in chorus, "Hoch, Colonel Jake."

By the way the robberies and burglaries are not being abated. What is the reason? Did Lieut. Robert J. Foster get in bad when he raided a West Green street saloon that had protection from higher authorities? Was not the case continued for two weeks to get matters straightened out? What do you know about this?

It is rumored, and the rumor has all the earmarks of authenticity, that the police are too busy taking a political census to pay any attention to a little thing like a series of robberies.

Here is a coincidence: The street cars for years stopped in front of George Korfhage's place on Preston street. Now they are stopping in front of the police station. Robert J. Foster, the new Lieutenant of police, is now busy asking people hurt in street car accidents to compromise rather than bring suit. Is it possible that the street car company and Lieut. Foster are yoked in harness?

FEDERATION

Of Jefferson County Has Got Down to Hard Work.

The Jefferson County Federation of Catholic Societies met at Bertrams' Hall on Thursday night. The work was a comparatively full representation of societies in attendance, and President Newton G. Rogers presiding. The Library Committee made a report which was discussed and approved.

President Rogers appointed Messrs. Fitzgibbon, Sooner and Connelly a committee to procure Rev. Father Clark, O. P., to deliver an address before the Federation at its October meeting. Messrs. Hillerich and Cooney, delegates in charge of the open meeting to be held at St. Boniface's Hall, reported that everything was in readiness for Thursday night, September 17. The speakers, it was announced, would be the Very Rev. Father Richard Worth, O. F. M., Edward Nelhaus, Attorney Newton G. Rogers and Judge Patrick T. Sullivan.

van. Drs. P. S. Ganz and Ben J. Lammers, delegates to the recent national convention in Boston, will give detailed reports of their experiences. The report of the committee was approved.

The matter of holding other open meetings during the fall and winter was discussed, but not definitely decided upon. Dr. Ganz made a very interesting report of the National Federation in Boston.

People of Ireland Show Their Sympathy For the Irish Party.

ELABORATE PLANS ARE MADE

The convention of the Irish League in America, which is to be held in Boston next week, promises to bring together some of the most noted Irish-Americans of this country as well as some of the noted men in Ireland. Great interest centers in the arrival of Hon. John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish party in Parliament, and his able colleague, Hon. Joseph Devlin, who represents West Belfast in the House of Commons.

The delegates arrived in New York Thursday and were met down the bay by a party of distinguished Irish-American leaders from New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Boston. Thursday evening the Irish envoys were entertained at a magnificent reception at the Hoffman House by the New York Council and branches of the United Irish League. On Friday the envoys went to Boston and on their arrival were met by committees and escorted to the Hotel Lenox, where they will remain until Tuesday. On Tuesday morning the Boston Council will have a banquet for the Irish envoys and branches of the United Irish League.

Today the envoys are attending the field day and athletic tournament, Irish games, sports, dancing, etc. Tonight addresses will be made by Messrs. Redmond, Devlin and Naughton. Tomorrow the Irish envoys and other distinguished visitors will attend high mass at Holy Cross Cathedral. On Monday the envoys will be guests of Gov. Curtis Guild, Jr., and Mayor George Hibbard. The evening there will be a special meeting of the National Committee.

National President Michael J. Ryan will call the convention to order at Faneuil Hall at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. The Most Rev. Archbishop O'Connell will open the convention. The Rev. John J. Ryan, of Philadelphia, will welcome the Irish envoys and other visitors to the State, and Mayor Hibbard will welcome them to Boston. At 8 o'clock in the evening National Secretary John O'Callaghan will deliver a lecture illustrated with stereoscopic views showing the gains made for Ireland as a result of the United Irish League. On Wednesday there will be business sessions in the morning and afternoon, and the convention will close with a mass meeting at 8 o'clock in the evening.

The envoys are attending the field day and athletic tournament, Irish games, sports, dancing, etc. Tonight addresses will be made by Messrs. Redmond, Devlin and Naughton. Tomorrow the Irish envoys and other distinguished visitors will attend high mass at Holy Cross Cathedral. On Monday the envoys will be guests of Gov. Curtis Guild, Jr., and Mayor George Hibbard. The evening there will be a special meeting of the National Committee.

English Catholic school children are raising a fund of 50,000 pennies. The money will go toward the erection of a monument to the late Cardinal Manning in Westminster Cathedral.

WAITING.

Louisville Y. M. I.'s Prepare Grand Welcome For Delegates.

Supreme Council to Attend Mass Before Opening Deliberations.

Busy Business Sessions Will Occupy Great Part of Week.

FEATURES OF SOCIAL NATURE

All is in readiness for the Supreme Council convention of the Y. M. I., which will meet in Louisville next week. The Supreme Council Arrangement Committee has been at work for several months, and at last have things in apple-pie order. This hard working committee, which has labored so earnestly, has been presided over by Supreme Director James T. Shelley, who is also the first President of Mackin Council. His colleagues were:

From Mackin—Charles S. Raily, Secretary of the Committee; Ben J. Sand, R. W. Galway and Louis J. Kieffer.

From Trinity Council—Past President Eugene J. Cooney, Edward Wulff, William Hillerich, Andrew Keifer and John J. Sullivan, Sr. Unity Council, New Albany—A. Ringenberg, J. M. Ashabanner, Charles F. Pfeffer, John Martel and Philip Soergel.

The Supreme Directors are expected to arrive tomorrow, and will hold their session at Mackin Club House Monday. The convention proper will open Tuesday, and as there is so much business to be transacted the sessions will probably continue until Saturday. Of course there will be a number of social features for the entertainment of the delegates and visiting members of the order. All of the business sessions will be held at Mackin club house.

Tuesday morning the delegates will assemble at Mackin club house, and from there take cars for New Albany. Mass will be celebrated for them at St. Mary's church, and the sermon will be preached by the Rev. Father George G. Borries, Chaplain of Unity Council. After mass the delegates will return to Mackin's club house to begin their deliberations. The principal business of Tuesday will be the welcoming addresses and responses and the appointment of committees. The business sessions will continue on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and probably Saturday. The election of Supreme officers will take place either Friday afternoon or Saturday morning. San Francisco and Seattle are the most strenuous bidders for the next convention.

Supreme President Mahan has named James T. Shelley as a member of the committee on laws and revision, but on account of his duties Mr. Shelley was compelled to decline the honor.

From a social standpoint the entertainment of the visitors ought to satisfy the most fastidious. There will be an automobile excursion over the city, trolley rides, and on Tuesday night a banquet at the Galt House, and a ball at the same hostelry on Thursday evening.

The ladies who have assisted Mackin Council in preparing a welcome for the visitors deserve their meed of praise. For several weeks the daughters, sisters, sweethearts and wives of Mackin's members have been embroidering banners to decorate the convention hall, and the council is justly proud of their work. Miss Ida Raily was Chairman of the committee, and her assistants were Misses Hattie Higgins, Mary Tierney, Mary Rieger, Charles and Harriet, Eva Raily, Florence Daily, Elizabeth Hawkins; Mesdames Kate Hill, James T. Shelley, Thomas D. Cline and Charles J. Rieger.

The committee in charge has looked after the comfort of the visitors by installing electric fans, equipping committee rooms, etc. Incidentally Mackin's club house was lighted with electricity for the special purpose of accommodating the Supreme Council.

The banquet at the Galt House Tuesday night promises to be a gala event. Eugene J. Cooney, Past President of Trinity Council, will be the toastmaster. James T. Shelley, of Louisville, will deliver the address of welcome. L. E. Mahan, Supreme President of the order, will come all the way from Europe, to talk about "The Church and The Age." H. McGuire, of Pennsylvania, will respond to "Our Country." "Sail On" will be the slogan of State President La Vega Clements. J. B. Queen will talk about "Our Order on the Pacific Coast." John J. Keough, of New York, will have for his subject, "Organization." It is expected that other addresses will be made by Past Supreme Presidents F. J. Keirce, of San Francisco, and William Fogarty, of Indianapolis.

RARE DISPENSATION.

His Holiness Pius X. granted a dispensation from abstinence last Friday to all who took part in the Eucharistic Congress in London.

ENTERS CONVENT.

Miss Anastasia Lawler, daughter of Mr. William Lawler, niece of Brother Celestine, of Notre Dame, and great niece of the late Father Lawler, former pastor of St. Patrick's, entered the convent of the Good Shepherd at Carthage, Ohio, a few days ago.

She is a bright and highly educated young lady, being a graduate of the Girls' High School and Normal School, and was ready to take a position as a teacher shortly, when she quietly surprised her friends by her departure for the convent in Carthage. From there she writes to her friends that she is delighted with her new life and the work of the Good Shepherd order.

EXCHANGED IDEAS.

Central Committee's Delegates Had Nice Meeting Last Week.

The Central Committee of the C. K. of A., which had so much to do with the success of the recent State convention of the order, met at St. Mary's Hall Friday night of last week. President Joseph P. McGinn occupied the chair, and John Fackler was chosen Vice President for the evening. Eight branches and the two military companies were represented by two or more delegates. Reports on the State convention were brief and to the point.

It was the consensus of opinion that the Central Committee would henceforward devote its time and attention to visiting the various branches and to securing new members. P. J. Dowling made a stirring address, and Delegates Holley, Reichert, Veeneman and Meehan all made detailed reports of the proceedings incident to the State convention. Capt. Gus Kane spoke for the military branch. It was a meeting for exchange of thought as well as of routine business, and the ideas brought forth will undoubtedly prove of great advantage to the order.

LAST SESSION.

Congregation of Propaganda Through With This Country.

The Congregation of the Propaganda has held the last meeting it is ever likely to hold for the purpose of appointing bishops in the conclave of the United States, since this ceases to be a missionary country on November 1. It settled the question about the new diocese of Rockford, Ill. The Right Rev. Peter J. Muldoon is to be its first Bishop. It also decided that the Very Rev. Dr. Daniel of Rochester, will be appointed coadjutor to Archbishop Riordan, of San Francisco.

The cable message which disposes of the latter vexed question is diplomatically worded, and states that "partly because of the irregularity with which the ticket of candidates was forwarded the congregation decided to ask Archbishop Riordan to have new candidates proposed by the irremovable rectors and Archbishops of the diocese."

It is asserted by those who are familiar with such subjects that it is the policy of Pope Pius to fill vacant sees with young men wherever possible and practicable.

NEW USE

For Irish Peat Beds Has Been Proven of Great Value.

Scientists have found a new use for the peat beds of Ireland. From peat to electrical power is not an idle dream, but an actuality. The scheme is to erect a central station upon the Grand canal, about twenty miles from Dublin, and to produce blast furnace gas from the peat, which will drive huge gas engines, these in turn propelling electric generators of sufficient capacity to furnish electrical energy over Kings county and Kildare. The process to be exploited is that of a German inventor, whose large factory near Munich has been operating successfully for about two years.

Peat containing as much as 50 per cent. moisture can be used satisfactorily, the moisture becoming an essential ingredient of the water gas and preventing too rapid combustion. An elaborate plant is to be installed for by-products, such as sulphate of ammonia, tars and tar oils, etc., which in themselves are of appreciable commercial value. In the German factory the process is of a dual nature. Peat from which 75 per cent. of the moisture can be evaporated is converted into peat coke, which is used as a fuel in the German navy and many industrial concerns, while the raw material, which retains half its moisture, is used for producing the gas from which the by-products are extracted.

ROUTINE AFFAIRS.

Trinity Council, Y. M. I., held another splendid meeting Monday night with President James B. Kelly presiding. Three new applications were received. Henry Leutkemeier, of Lambert Young Council, Frankfort, made an interesting talk and praised the new club house. Otherwise the business was of a routine nature, except that President Kelly announced that the formal opening of the club house has been postponed from November until February.

HAS EARNED REST.

The Rev. Father John O'Connor, pastor of Holy Name church, South Louisville, is expected to return home from his European trip about October 1. At last accounts Father O'Connor was in Ireland, and he will be accompanied home by his sister, Miss Margaret.

The banquet and the ball under the joint auspices of the Hibernians and Ladies' Auxiliary of Louisville in honor of the State delegates brought the social entertainment of the visitors to a fitting climax Monday night. The banquet was held in the spacious dining room of the Galt House, which had been appropriately decorated for the occasion, and the service and cuisine was in Manager O'Shaughnessy's best style. Every person who sat at the banquet board received a handsome souvenir menu card. County President John A. Murphy, who presided as toastmaster, had the State officers of the Hibernians and Ladies' Auxiliary seated on either hand. The other guests, aggregating 175, were ranged along tables convenient to hear the speakers. The Rev. Father C. F. Christmas, O. P., invoked the blessing. After the feast for the physical human was ended Toastmaster Murphy introduced Miss Mary Corcoran, State President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, as the first speaker.

Miss Corcoran was very happy in her comments on the Ladies' Auxiliary. She said she feels that Kentucky may soon lead in the society, and expressed surprise that more Hibernians had not brought their wives, sisters and sweethearts into the order.

State President Butler was down for a toast, but as all wished to attend the dance he gave way to the Rev. Father Christmas, who spoke words of high praise for the Catholic Irish-Americans, who lead in all walks of life, and who in Kentucky are leading their fellow citizens in every path. The work of the Irish-Americans in Kentucky, he said, was greater even than their work in New England, because they had greater obstacles to overcome.

Judge M. T. Shine, of Covington, in responding to "Hibernianism," was peculiarly felicitous and declared that the representatives excelled all others at the national convention at Indianapolis. He paid a feeling tribute to the late John J. Barrett, one of the first Hibernians he met in Louisville many years ago. He spoke eloquently of Hibernianism and its work for centuries past.

After Judge Shine brought his address to a close the delegates and guests took cars and hurried to the Southern University building, at Fifth and Kentucky streets, where the dance was in progress. The spacious dancing hall was crowded with Terpsichorean devotees, the floor was never in better condition and the music furnished by Dennis Collins' orchestra was splendid. Old fashioned quadrilles, Irish jigs and reels were interspersed with modern dances, and it was 1 o'clock before the lights were extinguished and the last dancers retired.

Many of the visiting ladies and gentlemen arrived Sunday morning in time to attend mass at some of the many churches in Louisville. In the afternoon the visitors were given an informal reception at Division 2's hall, First and Market streets, where refreshments were served and all indulged in social chat until the train of electric cars arrived to take them on a trolley ride. There were two car loads in the party and they traversed the principal streets of the city before reaching the residence of Miss Mary Corcoran, State President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, 1983 Portland avenue. Miss Corcoran's lawn was illuminated with Japanese lanterns. Ice cream and cake, and Roman punch were dispensed lavishly. All her guests departed with praise for her hospitality.

Tuesday afternoon many of the Hibernians and almost all of the Ladies' Auxiliary delegates attended the State Fair.

BRITISH SQUARE DEAL.

One thing that may be said for the alleged spirit of fair play and square deals among the British—they play no favorites. They have treated the Catholic church like they treated the athletes of the rest of the world by adding insult to injury. In Turkey, in Persia or in any semi-civilized country it is doubtful if the governments of those countries would have prevented a religious procession such as the Catholics sought to have in London last Sunday. A procession was held, but not in the manner originally intended. The Papal Legate, Cardinal Vannutelli, and eight other Cardinals will have nice reports to carry to their respective people. The insult to the Church came like a thunderclap from a clear sky.

Three thousand of the leading Catholic priests, prelates and Cardinals of the Church had assembled in London to attend the International Eucharistic Congress. The congress opened Wednesday and was to have concluded Sunday with the Blessed Sacrament carried in solemn procession. Just before the mass meeting Thursday night Archbishop Bourne, of Westminster Cathedral, received a message from Premier Asquith deprecating the proposed Sunday procession and advocating its abandonment. The Archbishop replied that he could not act on a private intimation, but the Premier insisted that the communication was purely confidential and must not be published. The Bourne as old in family history as the Asquiths, and the Archbishop refused to be made a tool of. He insisted on a public request. It was then that the Premier replied that in the Government's opinion it would be better, in the interests of good order, to abandon the proposed ceremonial, the legality of which was open to question.

When Archbishop Bourne made the announcement the throngs of people cried "Shame." But there is no shame in the English character. The intention to carry the Blessed Sacrament in the procession was abandoned, lest some insult might be offered. Otherwise the procession was carried out much according to the original plans. The crowds that packed the streets over which the procession passed and in the Cathedral were guarded by police, but there was little excitement and few insults offered the prelates.

The British Premier seems to be solely responsible for the insult to the gathered prelates. What will fair minded Americans think of this latest display of English fair play?

SEES THE FINISH.

The Louisville Herald, which has been eminently fair in its discussion of things political, even though its politics are Republican, sees defeat ahead for that party in Louisville this year and next. In an editorial last Saturday the Herald said: "The ceaseless turmoil and squabbling among members of the lower board of the General Council must be put to a hasty end if the Republican party hopes to continue in power longer than the term for which its representatives were elected last November."

This is very true as far as it goes, but the Herald might also have referred to the unrest in the upper board, to the Fulton street and Ridgeway alley matters, to the bickering in the police department and detective bureau. All of these troubles are helping the Democratic cause.

BRYAN AND POPE PIUS.

Some of the Taft exploiters are trying to arouse the prejudice of the Catholics against William Jennings Bryan with the story that Bryan was discourteous to Pope Pius because he did not call upon him when in Rome in 1905. As a matter of fact Bryan is a Presbyterian and under no obligation to pay his respects to the Pope. But those interested in maligning Mr. Bryan failed to report that he returned to Rome, sought and obtained an audience with His Holiness, and in his book, "The Old World and Its Ways," devotes an entire chapter to the Vatican and Pope Pius. His descriptions are all that the most fervent Catholic could desire.

present interest keeps up, and there is no reason why it should not, Kentucky's State Fair should soon rank with the fairs of Ohio and New York. The horse shows, the display of fine cattle, sheep and hogs, the racing, the agricultural and horticultural displays were the best ever seen in Kentucky. The fireworks displays at night were also good and the crowds day and night were larger than expected. Irish-American night also brought out a large crowd and all enjoyed the outing. The Louisville Railway Company did its part in contributing to the success of the fair by extending its lines and providing rapid transportation. Upon the whole the management is to be commended.

Every visitor to the Hibernian State convention and to that of the Ladies' Auxiliary was loud in praise of the treatment accorded the delegates while in Louisville. They complimented the people, the press, the hotels, the County Board and Hibernians in general for hospitality extended.

The committee also recommended that annual field days be held wherever practicable. This recommendation was also concurred in. The next matter considered was the election of State officers, and the result was as given above. It was decided to hold the next biennial convention at Ashland. The convention then adjourned sine die.

County President of Boyd County, came to the State convention and delegates.

could dance to that music.

The New York State convention at Ogdensburg was opened with solemn high mass at St. Mary's Cathedral.

The Ladies' Auxiliary extended a special vote of thanks to the local Hibernians for the courtesies received.

Miss Catherine Kane, of Paris, has been offered a home in Louisville, and it is said that she is considering the proposition seriously.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to Division 3 of Utica, N. Y., celebrated its eleventh anniversary last week with an elaborate musical and literary programme.

Indiana divisions now have a membership of 3,359, an increase of 304 since July, 1907, and within the past two years have organized four new divisions.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Louisville met Wednesday night and received fifteen applications. This shows the State convention aroused interest in the order.

Mrs. Jennie McDonald, Mrs. Finegan, Mrs. Charlton and Miss Ada Conkling, all of Covington, remained over to attend the Ladies' Auxiliary Wednesday night.

Mrs. Jennie McDonald, Miss Ada
Conkling and the Misses Charlton and Finegan, of Covington, lent lots of vim to the State convention of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

At Binghamton, N. Y., the order had an outing and field day last week. A feature was a baseball game, and the Hibernians beat the K. of C.'s by a score of 1 to 0.

The thirteenth biennial convention of the order in Minnesota will be held at Duluth next Tuesday and Wednesday. It promises to be the most important convention of the order in the State.

The Associated Photo Company
took admirable pictures of the delegates to both the Hibernian and Ladies' Auxiliary convention. The group was splendid and the pictures will be held as souvenirs.

The Ladies' Auxiliary gave Miss Mary Corcoran, the retiring State
President, a rising vote of thanks
Wednesday night for her hard work in preparing for the State convention and entertaining the visitors.

Al J. Patterson, Vice President of Division 1, Newport, was a welcome visitor to the Kentucky Irish American office this week. He was a prominent member of the Committee on Rules at the State convention.

J. B. Burdiss, of Ashland, who served two terms as State Treasurer, declined to serve another term and likewise declined to oppose State President Butler for re-election. He said he thought Mr. Butler's one good term deserved another.

Among those who assisted Miss Mary Corcoran in receiving her guests Sunday night were Misses Fannie Kennedy, Cherry Rogers,
Kate Doyle, Nellie Downey, Annie Hines, Rose Sweeney and Emma Fisher. Thanks are due to Thomas Dolan, who did the heavy work.

Newport sent a splendid delegation to the State convention in John Barton, President of Division 1; Vice President Al J. Patterson, Recording Secretary Thomas Hester, Financial Secretary John Callery, David
Hurley, Treasurer, and James Tierney, Secretary of the County Board.

Indiana Hibernians held their biennial convention at Washington last week and elected the following State officers: William H. Kelly, Richmond, President; Patrick R.
Walsh, Terre Haute, Vice President;
J. P. Grace, Kokomo, Secretary;
Charles A. Kidwell, Washington, Treasurer.

The old fashioned quadrille at the dance Monday night was the "piece de resistance." Thomas Lynch, John H. Hennessy, William M. Higgins, John G. Hession and D. J.
Coleman were among the dancers, and the way they footed it was a caution. Slippery floors had no terrors for them.

The Ashland delegation was made up of County President Thomas Howard, Division President Michael

itors to the Kentucky Irish American office this week. It was the first visit of these ladies to Louisville but they promised to return soon and often.

convenience of Cardinal Gibbons. The Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey was a

AFTER MANY YEARS.

For the first time in more than twenty-eight years the Catholic Knights of America will hold their Supreme Council in Nashville, in May, 1910. The order was founded in that city more than thirty years ago. The Nashville Knights are raising funds to provide a suitable reception and entertainment for the delegates and visitors.

CENTURIES OLD.

The Dublin Freeman's journal says that the library of the British Museum has acquired a manuscript which contains a treatise on shorthand. The manuscript, which is on vellum, refers to the tenth century.
It gives the stenographic signs and their equivalent in Latin, and attributes the invention of shorthand to Tullius Tiro, a Greek slave of Cicero. Shorthand has been declared a modern art, but the old manuscript is another proof that there is nothing new under the sun.

PROTECT YOUR LOVED ONES

TO THE READERS OF THE KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN:

Every man has some one depending upon him, whether it be a devoted wife, prattling babes, an aged mother or young sisters, who rightly look for husband's or brother's strong-armed support. This is an obligation which the man, who is a true American citizen, always assumes.

You are, no doubt, fulfilling that duty; but have you provided for the loved ones in case you are taken from them? By the payment of a small amount yearly you can guarantee them a tidy sum if you die, or if you live provide for yourself in your old age. This is life insurance, and the insurance policy steps in and gives you protection you can not give yourself.

This protection is provided by the Citizens Life Insurance Company. It is a Louisville company, and operates under the Kentucky laws—laws that protect the interests of the policyholders. Its officers and directors are men who stand high in this and other communities. It has assets of over $1,000,000.

Let us explain this plan to you. It will take but little of your time, and the benefits will be great. Telephone or drop a card to the CITIZENS LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

RESTING.

Bishop Spalding Is Spending
Summer in Old Kentucky Home.

To the Manor Born and Is Member of Very Old Family.

Prolific Writer and Eloquent Lecturer May Recover
in Time.

FOUNDER OF ST. AUGUSTINE'S

The Right Rev. John Lancaster Spalding, who resigned as Bishop of Peoria, Ill., last week, is spending the summer at the home of his sisters in Marion county. Besides being endeared to Catholics as one of the most brilliant members of the American hierarchy, he is also esteemed as a Kentucky son, and one of this State's most distinguished families in this State. His uncle, the Most Rev. Martin John Spalding, was Bishop of Louisville before he was made Archbishop of Baltimore. Another distinguished uncle was the late Father Ben Spalding, who left quite a sum of money to found a home for boys. Bishop Spalding was born at Lebanon on June 2, 1840. After his ordination he was one of the assistant priests at the Cathedral of the Assumption in 1867, and it was he who founded St. Augustine's church, Fourteenth and Broadway, in all probability the first Catholic church for colored people in America. A few years later he left the diocese, and on May 1, 1877, was consecrated Bishop of Peoria. A few years ago he suffered a paralytic stroke and has never entirely recovered. Since his illness the affairs of the diocese of Peoria have been largely administered by the Right Rev. Peter J. O'Reilly, coadjutor Bishop.

Bishop Spalding was not only a hard worker as a priest, but he kept up his hard work after his elevation to the episcopacy. He was a prolific writer, an eloquent lecturer and always the friend of the poverty-stricken and lowly. During the big strike of the miners in the anthracite coal region of Pennsylvania a few years ago President Roosevelt made Bishop Spalding a member of the arbitration committee that finally brought about peace and a resumption of labor. His poems, his lectures and his prose writings have made an impression on American life. His friends in Kentucky and in Peoria hope that Bishop Spalding's retirement is only temporary. They want to see a real Kentucky Cardinal and feel that the red hat could not fall upon a worthier head than that of the Right Rev. John Lancaster Spalding.

BACK FROM TOUR.

Dan Kane, the well known river pilot, has returned home from a month's inspection tour of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. Capt. Kane never loses an opportunity of making these tours when the rivers are low, as it gives him a more thorough understanding of the channels and shoals.

BIG BAZAR COMING.

The Ladies of St. Mary's of the Knobs congregation, near New Albany, are going ahead with their plans for the big bazar which is to begin October 4. They expect many visitors from Louisville while the bazar is in progress.

SOMEWHAT BETTER.

The Very Rev. Father Faller, pastor of St. Mary's church, New Albany, who became suddenly and seriously ill while celebrating mass one day last week, shows some signs of improvement, but is not yet out of danger. On account of his advanced age serious fears for his recovery are entertained, and last Sunday his congregation was asked to pray for him.

PROVISIONS

Of the New Irish University Bill
Treats All Religions Alike.

Eminent Scholars Are Heads of Catholic Branch in Dublin.

Old Trinity Will Not Be Changed
as Result of New Enactment.

THE NEW BRANCH IN BELFAST

The Irish University bill, which has finally become a law by act of the British Parliament, is not all the Catholic hierarchy or the people of Ireland wish, but they take it with the consideration that half a loaf is better than no bread. The bill provides for three State-recognized universities, but will not interfere with the present University of Dublin and Trinity College. The second university will be a Catholic institution with headquarters in Dublin also, while the third will be in Belfast, and is intended for Presbyterians. Queen's College in Cork and the Catholic college in Galway will be tributary to the Catholic University in Dublin. Maynooth College, where most of the Catholic priests of Ireland are educated, will be affiliated with Dublin's new Catholic university in the same way that Magee College in Belfast will affiliate with the new university in Ulster. The same conditions apply to both parties as far as religion is concerned. The Catholic and Protestant students will be excused from residing at the new university sites and may continue their studies exactly as at present, going to Dublin and Belfast only to take their degrees. Section 3 of the bill provides that "no test whatever of religious belief shall be imposed upon any person as a condition of his becoming or continuing to be a professor, lecturer, fellow, scholar, graduate or student of the universities." At the same time it is well understood that the bill is intended to provide that one of the two new universities is to be Catholic and the other non-Catholic.

Ten gentlemen well and favorably known have been chosen to organize the new Catholic university at Dublin. Six of them are Catholics and four are Protestants. The Right Hon. Christopher Pallas, Lord Chief Baron of the Irish Exchequer, is Chairman. He is a graduate of Trinity College, Dublin. Dr. Anderson, President of Queen's College, Galway, is second on the list. He is not a Catholic, but has always been recognized as fair to Catholics. President Windle, of Queen's College, Cork, is the third member and a Catholic. Other members of the commission are Prof. Jackson, of Cambridge; Sir John Rhys, of Oxford; Stephen Gwynne, an Irish member of Parliament; Mr. Boland, who represents County Kerry in Parliament; Sir William Francis Butler, and the Most Rev. Dr. Walsh, Catholic Archbishop of Dublin.

ROCKFORD'S NEW DIOCESE.

The Right Rev. Peter J. Muldoon, the new Bishop of Rockford, Ill., will not take charge of his diocese until the Papal briefs arrive from Rome. The new diocese comprises eleven counties of Illinois, and includes McHenry, Kane, Kendall, Boone, DeKalb, Lee, Whiteside, Carroll, Winnebago, Stephenson, Jo, Davies and Ogle. The diocese has fifty-six churches, twelve missions, 6,000 parochial school children and property valued at $2,000,000.
